Paros & Naxos Blue Star Ferries

The Challenge

The Blue Star Ferries Paros and Naxos are a familiar site throughout the Cyclades group of the Greek Islands. The presence of these fast, modern car-passenger ferries have had a major impact on the Greek Island economies.

For example, in the past five years, the Blue Star Paros has completed over 3,258 sailings carrying over 3,008,889 passengers, 335,936 private vehicles and 58,780 freight units, earning itself an enviable reputation as the most popular vessel on the route.

As a preferred supplier to the Ferry Industry, Tyco Fire & Integrated Solutions were commissioned to protect the Paxos and Naxos with a Minerva T2000 digital analogue fire detection and alarm system.

Designed and built to BSEN ISO9001/2 and approved by all the major marine authorities, the T2000 system is ideal for digital addressable detection for new, refurbished and re-fitted detection systems. The decision to sound the alarm is made at the controller allowing adjustments and compensations to be made for changes on environmental conditions. In short, providing maximum security whilst minimising the risk of false alarms.

These systems have been the result of intensive and proactive research and development acquired from working in partnership with the marine industry and marine approval authorities for a period in excess of 60 years.
